
Pittsburgh Fans Looking for New AD and Coach

I read some posts on a message board at pantherlair.com stating that they need to find a new AD and to hire Dan Mullen.

He is starting to get some press. No more excuses...The Time is Now! Hire Dan Mullen! :)

Pitt blew another one in double overtime to Navy last night. Wanstadt is done after this year.

It would be ironic if they go after Mullen, since it was him that crushed them in the Fiesta Bowl against the Utes.

I certainly would be sad to see him go there.

I would be disappointed if Pitt got Mullen and we didn't. I think Mullen has a great offensive mind and has been lucky to work with a coach like Urban Meyer.

I'm sure Wanstadt will be canned, but I hope that they head another direction to hire a more proven coach.
